on October 31. This is by order of Bishop Hughes of the New England Southern Conference.

This Federated church was formed several years ago by the Third Baptist Church and the North Main Street Methodist church under an agreement by which the two congregations came together in the Third Baptist church building and held their services as one church, without surrendering their denominational affiliations.

At present, it is stated, there are 76 Baptists and 16 Methodists forming the congregation.

The following was the communication giving notice of the dissolution:

Whereas, The Federated agreement terminates by order of Bishop Hughes, through Superintendent Bath, on October 31st, and whereas some have expressed themselves as not desiring to go to the city churches, therefore, be it resolved that we, the Third Baptist church, extend an invitation to those of the North Main street M. E. church, now in the Federated, to become affiliated members of the Third Baptist church; this affiliated membership to be offered without the act of immersion; also that it grants all church privileges except voting on property rights.

The resolution was passed by unanimous vote of the congregation. Rev. Mr. Trick said he proposed to offer it individually to each of the Methodist members.

Since the Federated church was formed, the North Main Street Methodist church building and the parsonage have been sold for a total of $10,000, which is part of the money referred to as going out of Greeneville and the rest is a legacy of $4,000 with other accrued money.
